Community Care Hub

Bridging the Gap & Making Social Care Happen

What is a Community Care Hub (CCH)?

- A CCH is a community-centered entity that organizes and supports a network of CBOs providing services to address health-related social needs.
- A CCH centralizes administrative functions and operational infrastructure, including, but not limited to, contracting with healthcare organizations, payment operations, management of referrals, service delivery fidelity and compliance, technology, information security, data collection, and reporting.
- A CCH has trusted relationships with and understands the capacities of local communitybased and healthcare organizations and fosters cross-sector collaborations that practice community governance with authentic local voices.

CINO has successfully:

A. Raised Awareness about E-B Chronic Disease Self-Management and support programs

B. Informed policies to support sustainability of these programs in Oregon, both rural & urban areas

C. Integrated with the Community Information Exchange (CIE) to improve referrals and access to social services

Case Study Activity

Your organization has been approached by the Oregon Health Authority to address the challenge of closed-loop referrals and claims billing between a health care clinic and community-based organization (CBO) in the state. Read the scenario below and decide the best course of action to solve this challenge.

"A health plan wants to purchase services from a CBO, but the services in question are not considered health-related. To meet the needs of the patient population, the clinic decides to pursue a path that would allow them to:

- Easily refer the patient to the CBO to support resource linkage OR
- 2. Simplify the claims billing process, so the CBO can bill by encounter when a patient receives care in the community setting."

In your groups, choose a path. Then, discuss the challenges and solutions. Choose one-person to report out on your decision.

Path 1: Closed-loop referrals

Path 2: Claims billing

Active CINO Initiatives

Federally-qualified Health Center Self-Management Program Pilot

This pilot aims to document pathways and test the effectiveness of OCHIN EPIC or Connect Oregon to improve closed-loop referrals to OWN for the National Diabetes Prevention Program, Diabetes Self-management Education and Support (DSMES), and diabetes support programs.

The North Star is that by improving closed-loop referrals to OWN, primary care can better meet patient needs for lifestyle change and self-management education Programs.
